Tinker,

Best of luck always to you and yours, for you truly deserve it. I have truly enjoyed knowing you this school year. Maybe there will be more.

Good luck,
Harriet Hibbs

Tinker Norris Reed Hall

Dear Tinker,"

You are the cutiest little boy I have ever met. You are just tops in everyway. Tinker, I have had a lot of fun dating along with you and Dazie Maier I've decided that you have played a big part in my school life this year. I'll miss your funny jokes this summer but I'll be looking forward to next year. Be good "Tink" and remember Dazie is the best girl you could ever find. Lots of Luck,

Nancy Lawson

Tinker,

I've really enjoyed going to school with you this year. I'm sorry if I gave you any trouble (if you get what I mean) Be good and forget what you told you. I know its not true —

Good luck,
Harriette

Tinker,

I have seen you do a lot of things and you are one of the funniest boys I've met this year. I will remember the fun we have had on some of those double dates and especially at the "Strata Club". I hope you always have as much as much fun out of life as you have had this year.

Marilyn F

Tinker,
I have really enjoyed knowing you. I feel very close to you because of Bobby. He thinks the world of you, and I do too. You a great little guy, and I wish you the greatest happiness in the future. Too bad you and Daisy couldn't be happy together. All the luck and love that you deserve in the future. Remember our trip to Jackson.

Love a friend,
Benny
Alex

Dear Tinker,
I know your not afraid, and I know you weren't going to cut those wires in Cairo. It has really been a lot of fun this year. And Yank and I won the sea battle at Reefpoot. If you ever come to Nashville this summer we won't cull nothing. Lots of Luck to you and Franky Jones this summer. Lot of Luck.

Hank (Chagrin)
(Monrick)

Tink,
No matter what any body says, we're the coolest sea partners and demolition crewmen. Your a guy and I'm looking forward to next year. I might cool it down to memphis town this summ... Friend always Benny

Expanding Horizons

As this volume of THE UTMB VOLUNTEER rolls from the presses, the school year 1957-58 is just coming to a close. When in the future we look back upon this year of our lives, in what terms shall we remember it?

Perhaps some may remember it as the year of the first artificial earth satellites. Others may recall it as the year in which a four year curriculum in Education was initiated at Martin. Others may think of it as the first year of occupancy of the new residence hall for women. Still others may remember it as the year UTMB'S football team compiled its best record in more than a decade. For many it will be the first year at college, or the year of graduation.

Whatever memories are uppermost in our minds when we recall this year, we must agree that in many ways it was a year of eye-opening — a year of broader outlooks. Each of us came to have greater personal visions of life as we left our homes and came to spend a year on the campus in quest of higher learning. The university itself had greater visions of service to the people of its area. Even the world became aware of the dawn, for better or worse, of a new day — the dawn of the "space age".

Truly in many ways the year was a year of EXPANDING HORIZONS.

Next Year

Spring is the time for new romance,
A light-hearted girl, a boy, a dance;
A song of love the boy does croon,
And words of love speaks beneath the moon.

And children playing here and there,
Breathing deep the clean fresh air;
And lovely flowers and bright green trees,
Are swaying softly in the breeze.

Yet, Spring is different for me this year,
He has gone away for ever and ever I fear;
But, I cannot be sad and I need not cry,
And there are thousands and thousands of reasons why

Because of new life and warm sunshine,
The joys of Spring can all be mine,
The swimming, the dancing, the games I play,
Make me care less and less every day.

EXPANDING HORIZONS OF KNOWLEDGE

So I'll just say good-by and try and forget,
And after awhile I wont care a bit;

But if I remember and I might I fear,
I just say to my heart wait till next year.

HOME ECONOMICS BUILDING

ENGINEERING BUILDING

APTITUDE TESTS along with orientation sessions take up the first days of the new college year. Above, Gerald Lindsey and Rose Beard test their scholastic proficiency.

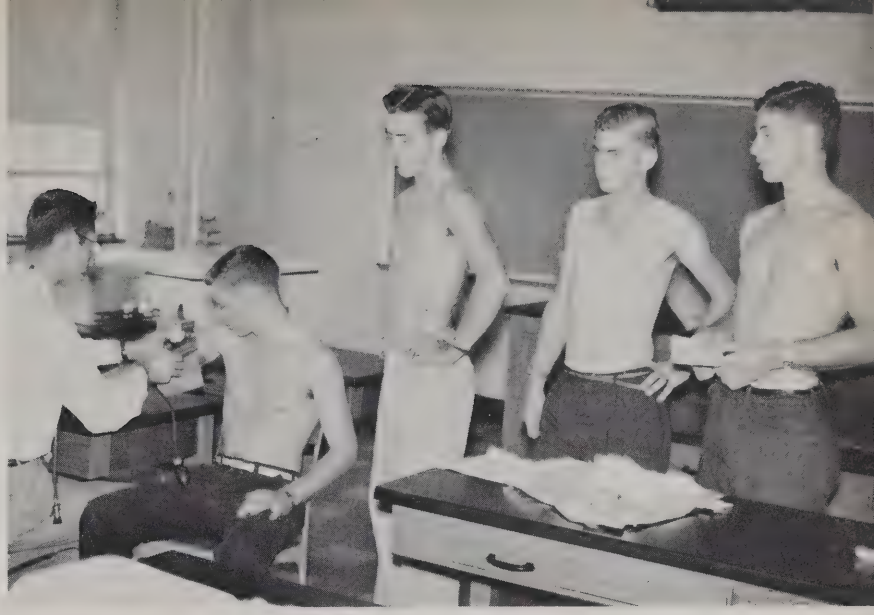
Registration

Registration was our formal introduction to the college year. The lines, the mass confusion, the understanding faculty advisor, are remembered experiences of that first week. It was also during that week that we first faced the problem of locating the right buildings, the right teacher, and making the right friends. Everyone from that boy who seemed to be in front of us in every line to the friendly nurse played a big part in registration week —our first week of college.

FACULTY AND CLASSROOM ACTIVITIES

IDENTIFICATION PHOTOGRAPHS are required of all new students. These are placed on the permanent records. Above, Richard Shivers sits while Photographer Waller snaps.

Registration



PHYSICAL EXAMINATIONS are given to all students each fall to determine physical education needs. In line above, Charles Culver, Cecil Hughey, James Scott and James Johnson.

IMMUNIZATION SHOTS help to insure a college career uninterrupted by certain contagious diseases. Nathan Rast gets the needle, observed by Martha Taylor, Harold Barker and Frank Milligan.

COURSE SELECTION is the last stage in the registration process. Here Maxine Danner confers with Miss Flowers, her faculty adviser. The line in the background waits for class cards.

INSTRUCTIONAL FILMS are among the teaching aids which the library provides for college classes and the high schools of the area. Here Carline Fuqua, library assistant in charge of films makes sure a film is properly re-wound.

Library Services

If you are looking for somewhere to study, see interesting exhibits, or maybe even catch a quick nap—the UTMB library is the place.

The facilities offered are numerous and the opportunities are great. In addition to the host of books usually found in a library, film strips, a high fidelity record player, the latest professional and non-professional magazines and newspapers from just about everywhere can be found in the reading room.

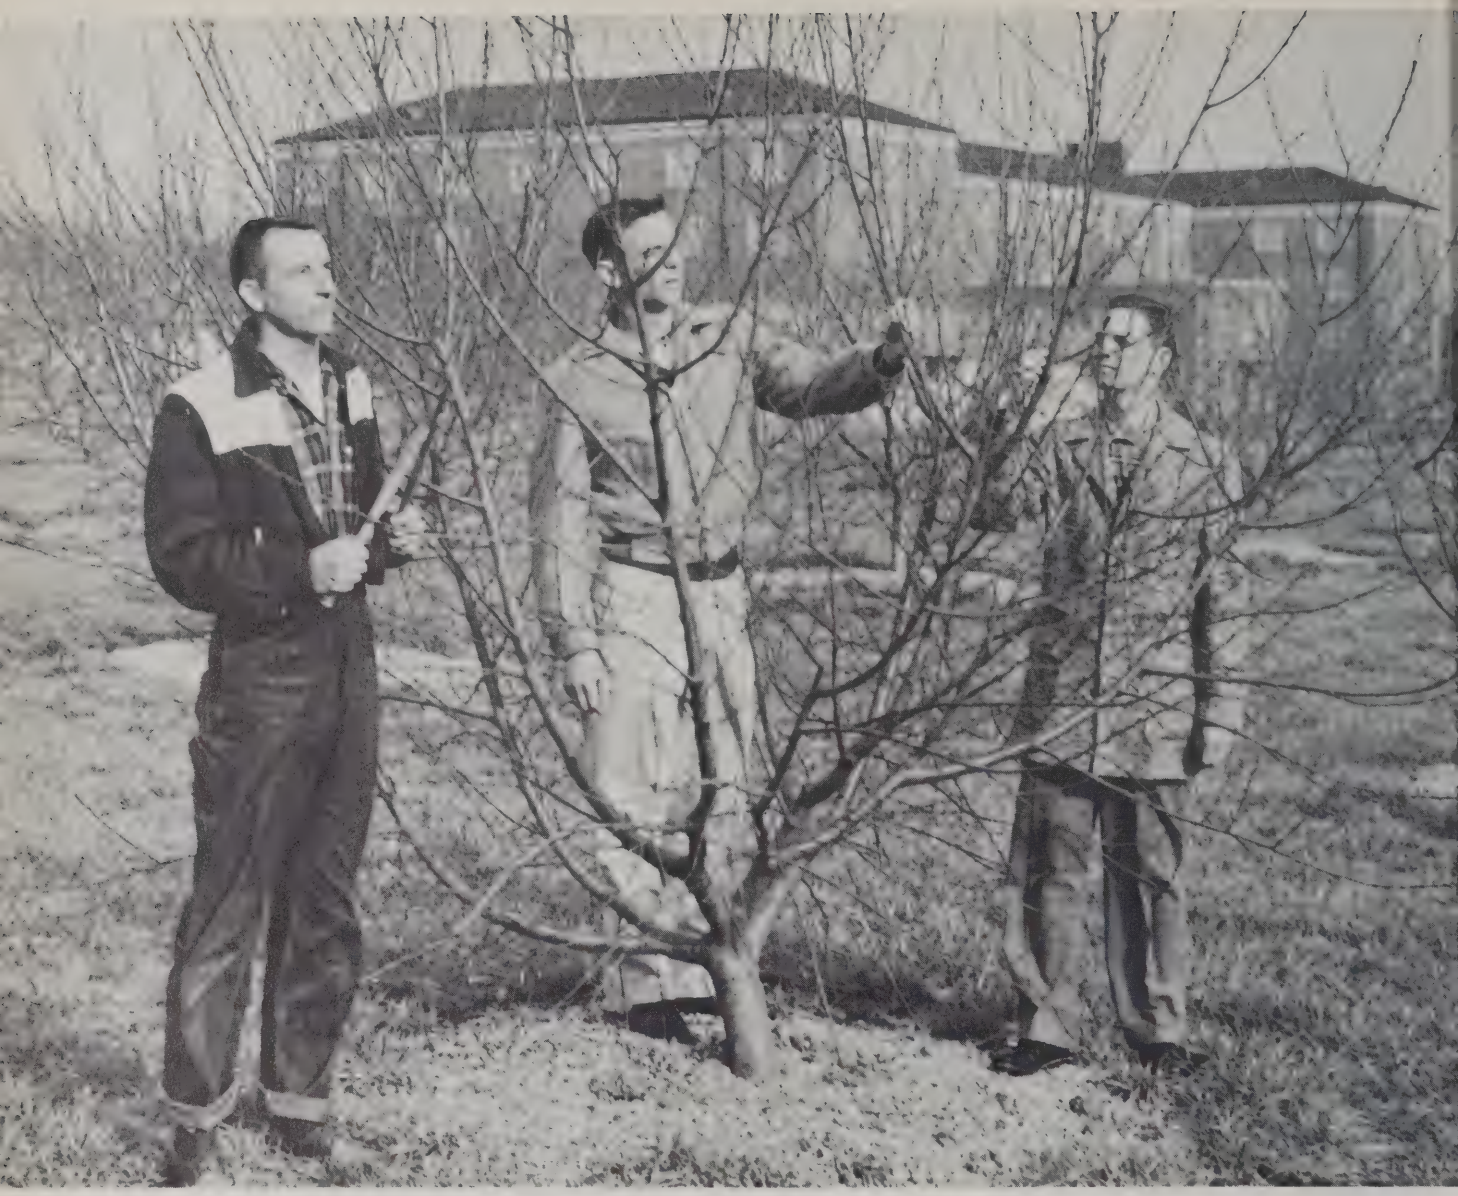
Interesting scientific exhibits such as the one during the fall quarter on the atom, and attractive bulletin board displays provide good incentives for forming habits of study.

READING ROOM of the library provides a comfortable place for study,browsing among the magazines, or catching up on the day's news. Open until 9:00 P.M. it is well frequented in the evenings.

Library Services

ATOMIC EXHIBIT on tour from Oak Ridge occupied this corner of the library for two weeks. Observers are Tommy Bradford, Richard Wheatley and Mr. Ferris.

CHECK-OUT DESK provides courteous service and assistance in finding books. Here Martha Hutchens helps Billy Goss, Doris Hood helps Virginia Goss check out the materials they need.



ORCHARD MANAGEMENT is a phase of agricultural enterprise studied by classes in horticulture. Inspecting a peach tree are Guy Robbins, Robert Patrick and Jack Shannon.

Agriculture

The "Cow-boys" . . . that's what they call us! We're fast becoming some of those famous "Tennessee Aggies." But a lot of hard work goes with that coveted title, we're finding out. The work is interesting, but even more important, it's challenging. Not only do we have our regular Ag courses, but botany, bacteriology, chemistry, entomology, geology, math, and even English play a big part in our curriculum.

We have learned that agriculture is a highly competitive and challenging industry. Another very important lesson and a basic problem of agriculture is that high efficiency is essential if the farm people are to continue to improve their way of life. We are learning about the construction of labor saving farm buildings in agricultural engineering; to formulate farm plans that are efficient and profitable in economics classes. In horticulture, the importance of fruits and vegetables in the diet and improvements possible in the farmstead through proper planning and plantings are being stressed. These and all other courses are giving us a valuable insight into the problems which the farmer must face if he is to succeed.

AGRICULTURE FACULTY: Standing: Paul B. Starks, Animal Enterprises; James R. Nichols, Dairying; Elmer W. Counce, Agronomy. Seated: John M. Gibbens, Agricultural Economics; Harrison G. Yocum, Horticulture; John E. McMahan, Horticulture and Department Head; Elige W. Culvahouse, Dairying; Earl M. Knepp, Agricultural Engineering.

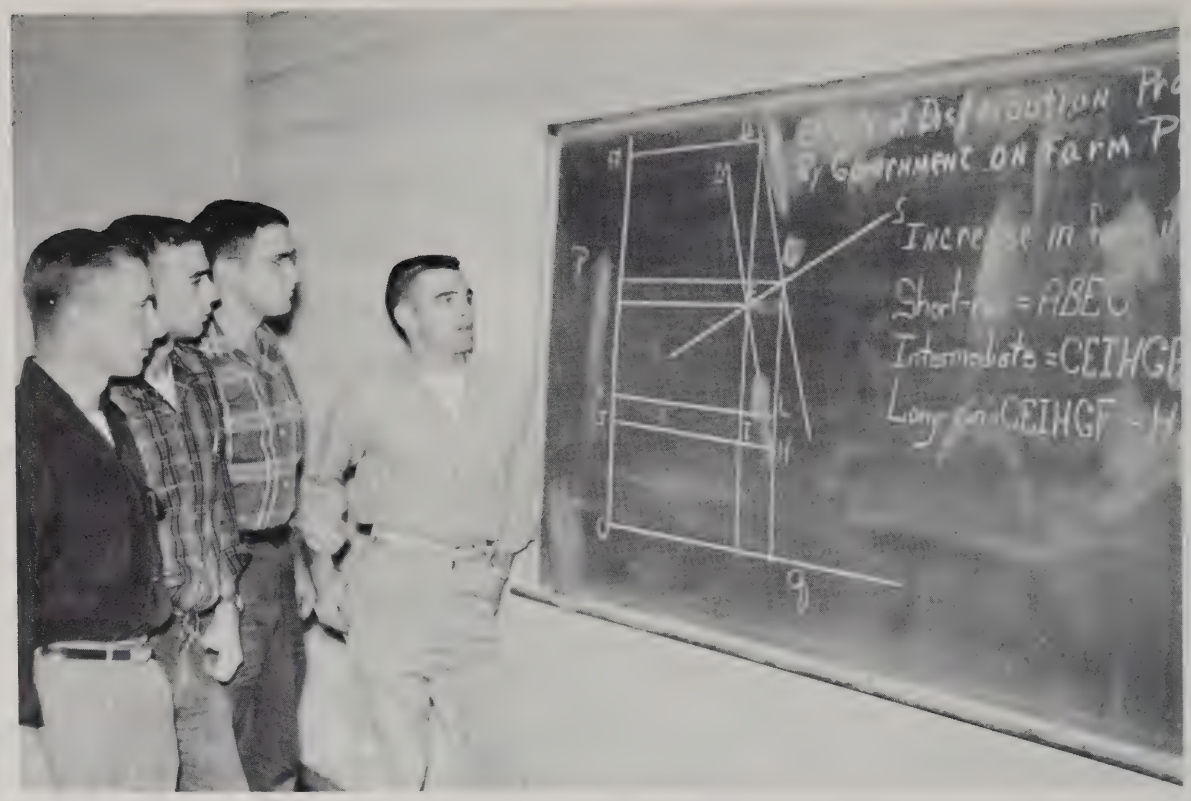
Agriculture

All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy, however, so our social life has played a big part for us Aggies. The enjoyable association with both our fellow students and the faculty at banquets, at work in the green house, on the farm, and cheering at the ball games . . . all these things have been important too.

The faculty has taught us through all these things, classes as well as social activities that co-operation is the key in working with our fellow man.

BEEF CATTLE on permanent pasture make an attractive sight for visitors to the UTMB farm. The people in the picture are Dr. Starks, Fred Brasher and Farris Fletcher.

FIRST JUDGING TEAM ever to represent UTMB at the Intercollegiate Livestock Judging Contest at Chicago made a good showing against northern teams. Pictured are Leeman, Reeves, Bryant, Farrar, Duncan and Dr. Stafks.



ECONOMIC FACTORS must be considered carefully in a well-managed farm program. Here William Penn, Robert Patrick, Lee Jones, and Bobby Williams study charts showing the effects of government programs.

Agriculture

DAIRY CATTLE are a very important part of Tennessee's economy. These particular ones eagerly await the feed which Kenneth Brannon and James Milligan are preparing to give them.

EGG PRODUCTION and poultry marketing are also important Tennessee industries. Here Paul Wilson and Billy Livingston gain first-hand experience in selecting productive hens.

FEED CROPS coming into use in the area including milo and kaffir corn. Agronomy students Bill Owens and Eugene McFall, along with Mr. Counce, study the characteristics of these crops.

Agriculture

FARM STRUCTURES of simple design are practice-built in agricultural engineering classes. The visible face is that of LeRoy Johnson.

FLOWER CULTURE and greenhouse management are also taught in horticulture courses at UTMB. Jack Shannon admires an orchid he has grown.

MEAL SERVICE requires careful planning and preparation. Here Ann McHugh and Linda Ross set the table for a dinner in the dining room of the Home Ec Building.

Home Economics

Right at first we learned that there is more to home economics than a little cooking and sewing! These are important but only two of the ways in which we Home Ec girls can develop our skills and talents. We learn how to plan meals balanced in nutritional values and served attractively. We learn to be charming hostesses. In courses in arts and crafts we study color and design. In home management courses we learn wise buying and efficient and economical homemaking. In courses in child development and family relationships we learn to make our own homes successful ones. All in all, after we have completed our four year course in home economics, we find we're ready for homemaking, or really almost anything.

HOME ECONOMICS FACULTY: Top row: Mary R. Armstrong, Department Head; Mary I. Flowers, Foods and Institutional Management; Aaltje J. Van Denburg, Related Arts and Crafts; Anna M. Creekmore, Textiles and Clothing. Bottom row: Barbara W. Norman, Child Development and Family Relations; Ruby L. Whitehead, Foods and Nutrition; Doris F. Latta, Institution Management; Thomasine P. Wadley, Nursery School Laboratory Assistant.

Home Economics

HOUSE DESIGNING is made much more effective by the building of scale models. Here Betty Henson works on floor plans and color schemes in her model house.

CARE OF HOUSEHOLD APPLIANCES as well as their efficient use is something about which the future homemaker needs to be informed. Here Nancy Hurst oils her sewing machine in the textiles laboratory.

Home Economics

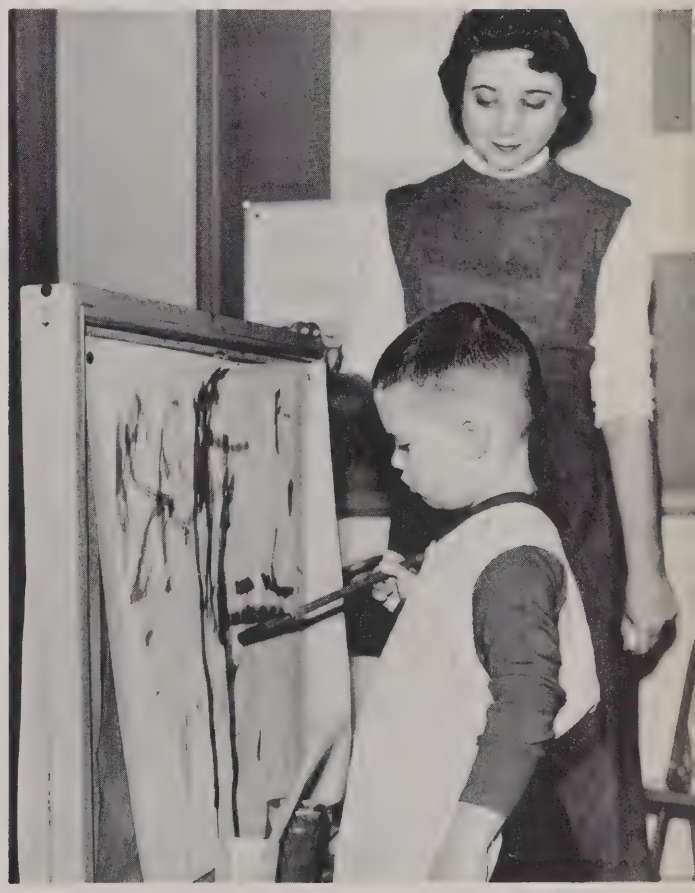
COLOR EFFECTS and combinations are studied by Johnnie Alexander as she mixes and matches colors in the related arts laboratory.

CLOTHING CONSTRUCTION teaches Martha Thorne the techniques and skills required to produce garments which are neat, well designed, and of perfect fit.

PREPARATION OF FOODS in a tasty and wholesome manner is an art requiring much knowledge and skill. Here Margaret Hamer, Sandra Beard, Anita Whitfield, and Carol Caldwell are practicing meal preparation in UTMB's highly modernized foods lab.

Home Economics

HOME MANAGEMENT becomes an actual experience for Eupha Dodd and Lawanna Walker, here discussing a problem with Miss Armstrong, their supervisor. These are two of the girls living three months in the Home Management House.



NURSERY SCHOOL gives students opportunity to observe and work with young children. Here Ann McHugh watches as a young artist tries his hand with paints and brush.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION STAFF: Standing: Joan Frisbee, Office Administration and Acting Department Head; Doris S. Scates, Office Administration; John W. Hamilton, Economics and Business Administration. Seated: James P. George, Economics and Statistics; William E. Bailey, Accounting; Harold T. Brundige, Business Law.

Business Administration

BUSINESS TRENDS as reported in current periodicals occupy the interest of these students in business administration. Shown are Suzy Bucy, Mr. Bailey, William Davis, and Dickie Jones.

BUSINESS SKILLS such as typing and shorthand are developed by hours of practice in UTMB's business labs. Nearest the camera are Shirley Isbell and Jean Anderson.

BUSINESS MACHINES provide experience in dictation, bookkeeping and other modern office techniques. Here Herman Rippy uses the dictaphone, Paula Prather the comptometer.

Business Administration

In the Business Administration Department at UTMB we learned to operate business machines, such as adding machines, typewriters, dictaphones and calculators, with speed and accuracy. In accounting classes we were instructed to keep accurate and neat sets of books.

In other business and economics classes we learned about the business world and changes that take place in it.

The classes in statistics taught us the tools used in interpreting data obtained through research.

Preparing us for the business world was the main objective of the Business Administration Department, which provided the opportunity to use the most modern business equipment available and to be trained by capable instructors in the field of business.

Education

The students in the Department of Education were probably the proudest on the campus in 1957-58, because this was the year the new degree program in Education went into effect on the Martin Campus. We were the poeple who one day would be training the future generations of our country . . . maybe even the President of the United States! We had great challenges facing us and our courses here at UTMB were helping us to meet these adequately.

Courses in observing children in practice teaching plus psychology, sociology, history, and of course education courses were preparing us for our task.

Education

These subjects taught us how man lives now and how he lived in the past. We learned that true education is the ability to relate past experiences to present problems.

By the time our education work at U.T.M.B. was completed, we would see clearly that our future in teaching was a very bright one indeed! Yes, we would be able to meet the challenge!

EDUCATION STAFF CONFERENCE: Vernon White, Psychology and Sociology; Glenn S. Gallien, Department Head, Education; Elmer B. Inman, Education; Marguerite B. Walker, Education.

SCIENCE EDUCATION imparts to these students a better understanding of nature. Here Doris Hettinger explains insect charts to Nelson Edwards and Vernon Adcock.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION FACULTY: J. C. Henson, Department Chairman; Bettye L. Giles, Guy D. Penny, Nadine Gearin, Vincent A. Vaughan.

Physical Education

The atmosphere of all those archery, tumbling, swimming classes was hard to beat! Those and volleyball, golf, and tennis helped us to relieve a lot of the day's tension as well as to develop coordination. The Physical Education Department not only offers these competitive sports, but also other more dramatic phases such as modern and folk dance.

WOMEN'S TUMBLING develops strength, poise, and coordination. Identifiable are Peggy Davis, Pat Patterson and June McDaniel.

RECREATIONAL SWIMMING is available to all students at certain hours each week. Here a group enjoys the college pool.

Physical Education

There was a big enough variety that just everybody found something he was interested in. Then the intramural program offered healthful recreation to almost all the students.

It seems that physical education classes were the most popular on the campus . . . that informal, social atmosphere of mixing work with play was hard to beat.

CONDITIONING EXERCISES help keep this freshman class in physical education in trim.

TOUCH FOOTBALL in the sunshine and open air provides a stimulating break from the hours of listening to classroom lectures.

VOLLEY BALL games, along with basketball and other team sports, give the spirit of competition to make Phys Ed attractive.

AN AUTHOR AND HIS PRODUCTION. Harry Harrison Kroll, well-known American novelist, and for many years chairman of the English Department at U.T.M.B., stands before a shelf of his novels.

English

What would we have done without our English classes at U.T.M.B.? All those themes, that literature, and those speeches . . . we were pretty tired, bored and scared at first, but soon learned how important a part they were in our education.

The main thing which our English courses did was make us think . . . something we are often prone to forget! Everybody from Shakespeare to Faulkner played a very important part in this process All the authors and ideas put our powers of interpretation to work.

And speech class made us think, too! Talking wasn't enough; we had to have something to say, and we had to learn how to say it!

Yes, our English classes really held an important place in education . . . a place which made us thinking people.

ENGLISH FACULTY: Standing: Harry H. Kroll, Chairman of English Department; Ed M. Chenette, James R. Wilson. Seated: Hortense C. Parrish, Curtis C. Whittington, Mildred Y. Payne. Absent when picture was made: Julian R. Swain.

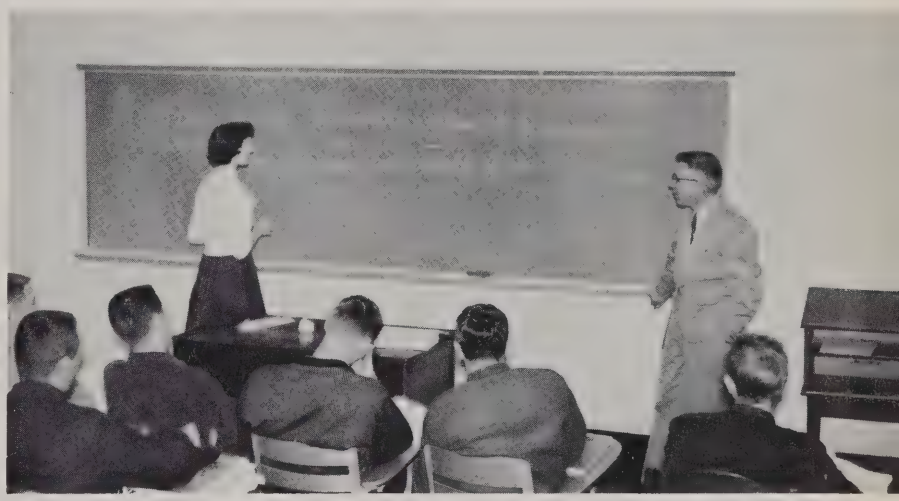
English



SCANNING LINES OF POETRY LaRue Killebrew, with the help of Mr. Chenette, explains a rhythmic pattern in English literature.

DOING LIBRARY RESEARCH for those long themes (footnotes, etc.) are Jan Ragsdale, Carolyn Prince and Charles Culver.

HISTORY AND POLITICAL SCIENCE STAFF: Dr. Leon C. Lantz, History and Political Science; Wayne Tansil, History; Robert L. Carroll, History; Horace B. Smith, Department Chairman, History.

History Political Science

History and political science offered us an opportunity to express opinions on our nation's politics and political problems. Those heated discussions in political science and those eternal dates in history made us aware that we were taking part in our nation's life. Those courses which we had anticipated as dull proved to be very interesting and very important in improving us as citizens.

LIBRARY REFERENCE WORK occupies Billy Kindred, Charles Ramsey, and Mark Farrar. Mr. Carrol oversees things.

STUDY OF MAPS locates the spots where historical events took place. Peggy Peeples is showing one point of interest.

EXECUTIVE GROUP for the Tennessee School of Religion on the U.T.M.B. campus. Standing: Jere Freeman, President All-Students' Club; Brady Whitehead, Director Wesley Foundation; Dean Paul Meek; Charles Wingo, Pastor First Baptist Church; Lowell B. Council, Pastor First Methodist Church. Seated: David D. Davidson, Minister Church of Christ; Henry C. Allison, Secretary Tennessee School of Religion Martin Branch; Alvin Gilliand, Pastor Central Baptist Church.

Religion

Religious education courses offered each quarter by the Tennessee School of Religion have proved to be very helpful and interesting to us as students on the U.T.M.B. campus. Courses such as "New Testament Life and Letters" have been filled with eager students. These courses are offered in cooperation with the University and are accepted for college credit.

"THE CHURCH AND THE FAMILY" is the title of this course in religion taught by Rev. Alvin Gilliand, one of the ministers of Martin who teach the courses of the Tennessee School of Religion.

SYNTHESIZING AN ALKYL HALIDE in organic chemistry laboratory, Rosemary Turner checks the temperature while Ralph Johnson makes sure the condenser is operating properly.

Physical Sciences

The International Geophysical Year and the advent of earth satellites gave fresh emphasis this year to the physical science subjects, chemistry, geography, geology and physics. We found interest in running an unknown in qualitative analysis, doing a synthesis in organic chemistry, making a field trip to Mammoth Cave, or doing electrical experiments in physics lab.

We found in this department a diffifulty in making A's, but a friendly faculty interested in our problems and always willing to discuss things with us. More fundamentally, however, we found an increase in our understanding of the physical world around us, and a basic preparation for our further studies in science, engineering, medicine, agriculture and other technical fields.

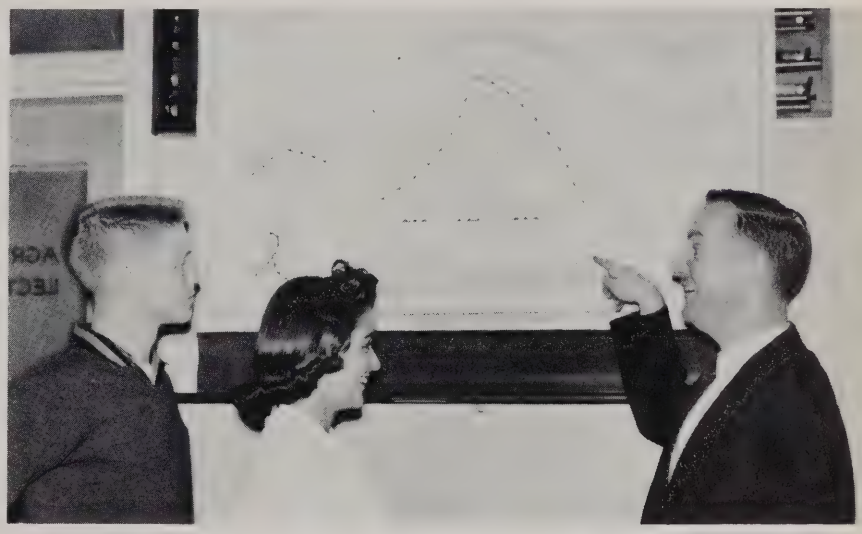
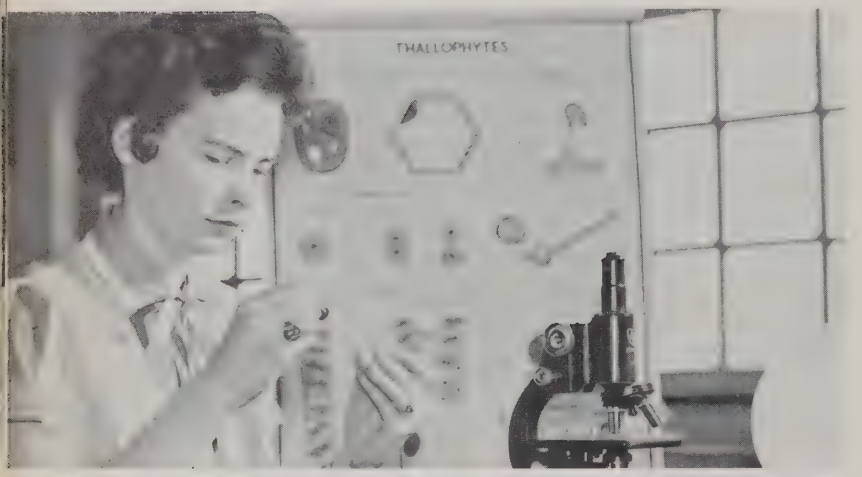
Physical Sciences



EXPLAINING A METEOROLOGICAL CHART to Robert Mullinil's and Frankie Wright seems to Mr. McDowell to be an enjoyable teaching chore.

MEASURING YOUNG'S MODULUS for steel is a laboratory exercise in physics. The experimenters are James Appleton, James Barker and Richard Shivers.

THE BIOLOGICAL SCIENCES FACULTY: Standing: George W. Bell, Everett F. Morris. Seated: George Horton, Head Department of Liberal Arts and Chairman Biological Sciences Section; Barbara M. Shannon, Para L. Evans, Grady D. Taylor.



Biological Sciences

STUDYING LOWER PLANT FORMS. Harriet Robinson prepares a slide for examination under the microscope.

EXAMINING ANIMAL SKELETONS. Charles Kessner compares skeletal structures in comparative anatomy lab.

COUNTING BACTERIAL COLONIES is an easy task for Virginia Goss with the modern equipment which is available to her in the bacteriology laboratory.

Biological Sciences

What knowledge gleaned in our various subjects is more applicable in everyday living than that pertaining to the biological sciences? We became aware of our plant friends about us as we struggled to memorize their scientific names. We felt we were getting closer to our ultimate goal when we began our study of zoology. The skeleton "Sarah" became a personal friend. We learned how to study as we began to dissect the cat and dogfish in comparative anatomy. And, if you think insect study is dull or uninteresting, try a quarter of entomology!

We feel that we were fortunate to receive instruction from a group of well-trained and capable people who were truly interested in us and our progress toward our final objective.

MUSIC FACULTY: Edward L. Turney, Band Director; Harriet Fulton, Department Chairman; Robert R. Stewart, Voice and Theory.

Music

Classes in music education, voice, piano and music theory offer just about everybody interested in music a choice of courses. Everything from Beethoven to modern jazz can be heard from the music building almost any hour of the day. And if you happened to pass about five, you could hear the girls' sextet in one room and the band tuning up in another. What a combination!

Maddening? Yes, but lively. A student without at least one music course just hasn't lived. Look what he's missed!

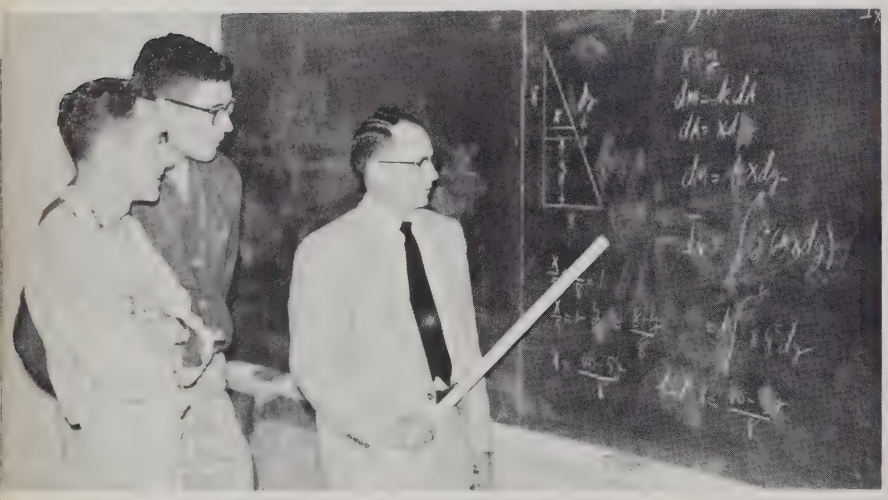
LESSON IN VOICE is given by Miss Fulton to Janice Whitson, a member of the women's sextette.

Music

LESSON IN PIANO — Mr. Stewart listens as Hal Bishop, a very accomplished young pianist, practices.

EXERCISE IN RHYTHM brings smiles to the faces of these members of the music appreciation class. From left, Bettye Miles, Bettye Privett, Faye Hunt, Sandra Roush, and Sue Light.

ENGINEERING AND MATHEMATICS STAFF: J. O. Jones, Department Head, Engineering and Mathematics; Murray O. Fussell, Machine Shop and Drawing; Baxter J. Fisher, Jr., Civil Engineering; James R. Burdette, Engineering; Paul P. Foote, Chairman Mathematics Section; Arthur L. Sparks, Mathematics; Louise M. Knifley, Mathematics; Floyd B. Burdette, Mathematics; Lawrence Cardwell, Jr., Engineering Drawing; Paul J. Horne, Engineering; Joe W. Guest, Mathematics.



Engineering

Sputniks, intercontinental rockets, supersonic jet planes, nuclear power, talk of space travel — these developments and many others make this the "century of the engineer". Engineering know-how and skill also are brought into play in providing many of the more prosaic and common aspects of modern life, such as modern communication, modern highway travel, and even the modern kitchen.

BASIC STUDIES in engineering take in the various phases of mathematics. Above, Mr. Foote explains a principle to John Bowers and Adam Hall.

BASIC SKILLS of the engineer include the making and interpreting of technical drawings. Here Mr. Horne assists Raymond Gallaher with his plate.

TECHNICAL APPLICATION of principles learned in mathematics is made by students in surveying class. Here Danny Wilkins and Tom Parnell check their field notes.

Engineering

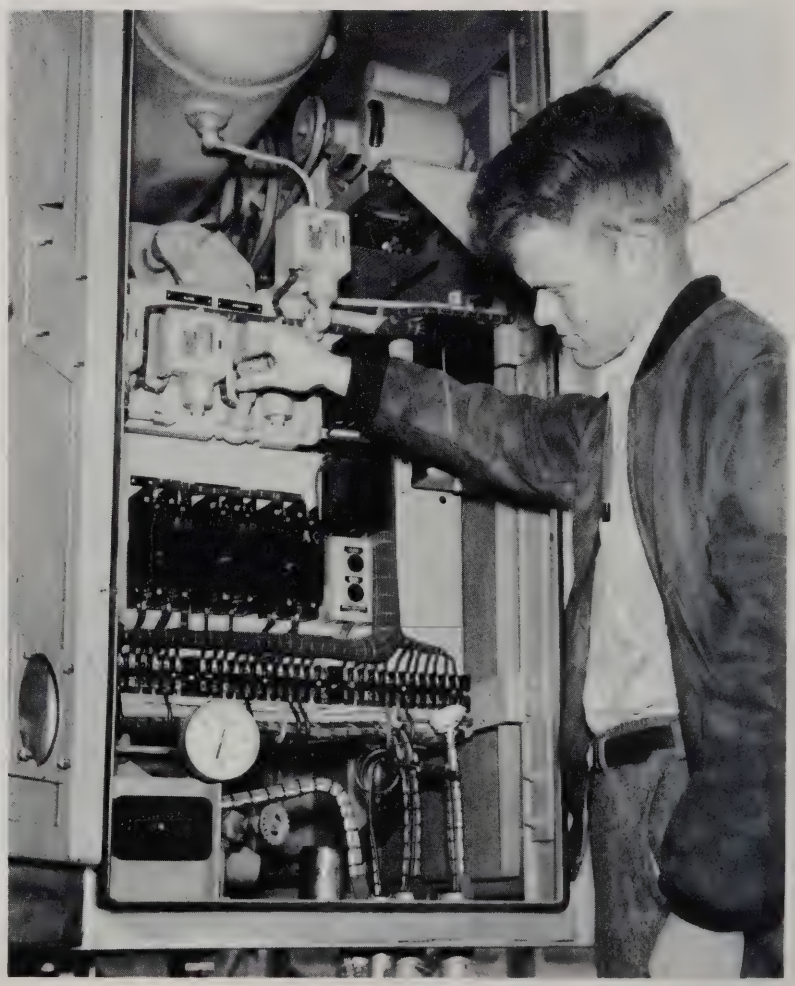
As students of engineering at U.T.-M.B. we were well aware of the importance of engineering and technology in this highly mechanized world, and in our course of study we worked hard to obtain a portion of the training we would need to take an active part in building this new age.

We took rather seriously our mathematics problems, our training in the use of precise English and our lessons in engineering drawing. We applied the basic skills learned in these courses in the fields of mechanical, chemical, civil, electrical, and industrial engineering, and some of us had on-the-job training in industry as co-op students.

In spite of a heavy study load, however, we found time to make many friends, attend meetings and socials of the Engineers' Club, and put on one of the major formals of the year, the Engineer's Ball.

USING A SHAPING MACHINE in mechanical engineering lab (above), Norman Fowler and Carroll Rials discuss the operating instructions.

Engineering



TURNING A CONTROL VALVE in an industrial plant is Tommy Taylor. Field trips are a regular part of the young engineer's training.

ENJOYING THE FALL SUNSHINE or perhaps surveying a passing covey of co-eds is this industrious surveying crew on the UTMB campus..

Engineering

OPERATING A POWER LATHE in machine shop gives familiarity with complicated equipment. Operators are Maxie Hardin, Bill Amison and Carroll Rials.

ROTC—TRAINING TOMORROWS LEADERS

The Reserve Officers Training Corps provides a military training program for men in selected colleges and universities, of which UTMB is proud to be one. The objectives are to train students to lead men and to teach certain specialized knowledges and skills. A college graduate who has completed the ROTC program can qualify for a Reserve Commission and consequently serve his country more effectively.

The units of the Cadet Battalion are commanded by sophomores, whose job is to teach the first year students the principles of close order drill and military discipline. This is "learning by doing" in action.

ROTC In Class

TARGET SHOOTING on the rifle range gives the ROTC student the feel of the weapon. Here Lt. Richardson gives instruction to Scotty Greene.

MILITARY HISTORY and tactics come in for classroom instruction. In front are four Jameses — Britt, Barker, Appleton, Blankenship.

WEAPONS CARE and use are studied by four freshman ROTC students, George Yahr, Darius Owen, Ray Cantrell and Ray Melson.

ROTC BATTALION ON THE MARCH on the parade ground is but one of the many weekly tasks that make up the life of a ROTC cadet.

ROTC On Parade

ROTC RIFLE TEAM. Standing: Shanklin, Hinson, Tull, Whitehead, Lewis. Kneeling: Ridley, Lindsey, Arnold, Culver, Freeman.

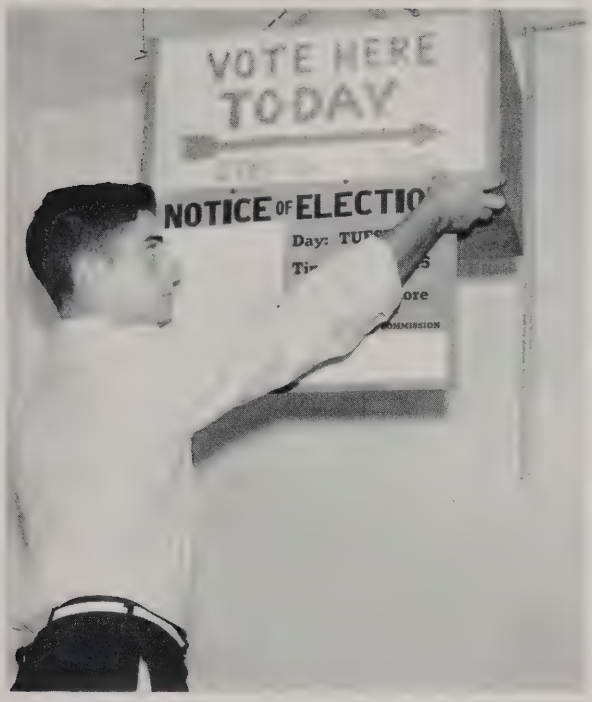
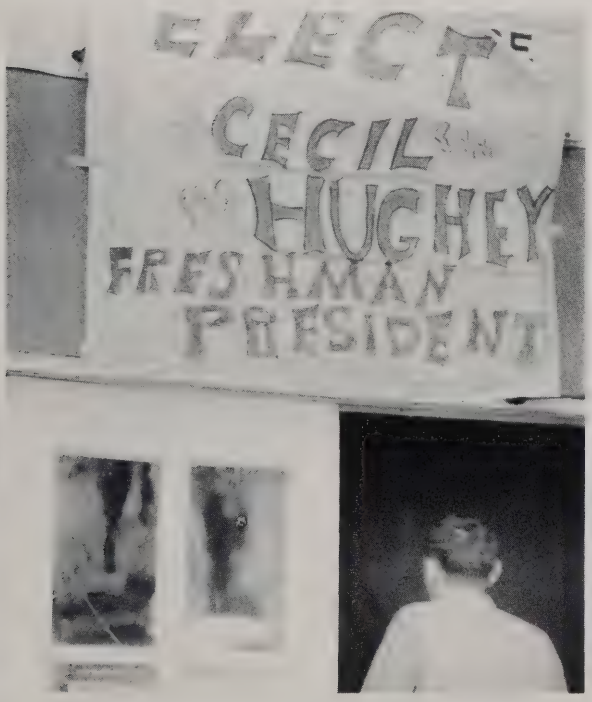
Campus Glimpses Election Day



The signs are up, the lights are flashing. Class officers are being elected to-day . . .



The candidates have been active, the political fever has infected campus . . .

The voters come to the polls and receive their ballot forms from an election official . . .

"Shall I vote for this one for president? She would make a good secretary . . ."

The decisions are made, the ballots are cast . . . Who won? (See class officer pages).

Freshman Class Officers

Adam Scott, Patty Thurman, Charles Carr, Patty Jo Alexander, Judy Johnson, Tom Carpenter

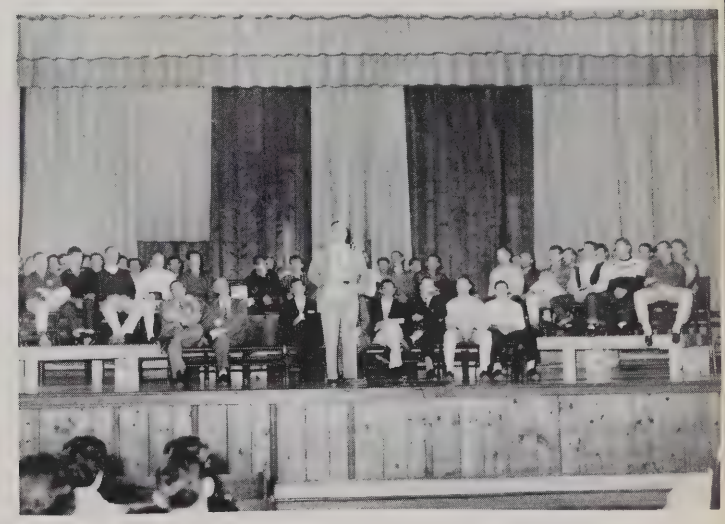
PORTRAIT OF DEAN MEEK, presented to the school by the All-Students' Club, is examined by Dean Meek, President Brehm and Mrs. Meek.

ADDRESS BY PRESIDENT BREHM is delivered to students and visitors. Various school and governmental officials are platform guests.

Random Highlights

Sometimes events occur during a school year which are hard to classify in a given section of a school yearbook, but which are memorable because of their importance or the people involved. A few such events are recorded on this page.



ASSEMBLY HONORING FOOTBALL SQUAD features an address by Wayne Fisher, one of the University's trustees. The football men are shown on the stage behind him.

THE ALOHA PROCESSION always gives the heart of an alumnus a tug, as the graduates go through this beautiful ceremony symbolizing the farewell to college days.

THE COMMENCEMENT PROCESSION is a solemn sight as the seniors wind their way across the campus to the exercises in which they receive their degrees.

QUEEN CHARLOTTE TAYLOR AND KING RALPH JOHNSON reign over Barnwarmin' festivities.

SELLERS LEACH AND THE ARISTOCRATS provide the dancing music, while Nancy Adams adds a song.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Barnwarmin'

APPLE CIDER AND GINGER SNAPS add an old fashioned touch.

JEANS AND COTTON DRESSES lend an informal atmosphere at Barnwarmin'.

BILLY WEBB AND JERE TAYLOR join with Tom Lonardo's band to add a personal note.

Winter Wonderland

FROSTED PUNCH AND CAKE provide welcome refreshments for the dancers.

THE JAM SESSION catches the on-lookers' eyes.

THE CHAPERONS enjoy a card game while students dance.

Military Ball

A BOUQUET OF ROSES is given to the lovely sponsors of the R.O.T.C.

IN AN ATMOSPHERE OF UNIFORMS, the Army goes to town.

CAKE AND PUNCH relieve the military thirst at the Military Ball.

Engineers Ball

A KISS FOR THE SWEETHEART, Ruth Dodson, as attendants Patty Thurman and Lawanna Walker stand by. The lucky gent is Ronnie Horner.

PHILLIP REYNOLDS AND HIS BAND provide music for the ball.

BENEATH THE SLIDE RULE, the Engineers and their dates do the bop.

Miscellaneous Parties

THE SLOPSLINGERS at the college cafeteria elect Glenda Pritchett as their queen.

CORSAGES AND FORMALS highlight the Christmas Dance.

THE REBEL ROOM is just the place between classes and on afternoons off.

Miscellaneous Parties

A LOVELY SOUTHERN PLANTATION is the setting for last year's Commencement Dance.

DINNER AT RETREAT is enjoyed by the ASC member and the sponsors.

THE RECREATION ROOM in the Women's Residence Hall resounds to singing by this group.

Miscellaneous Parties

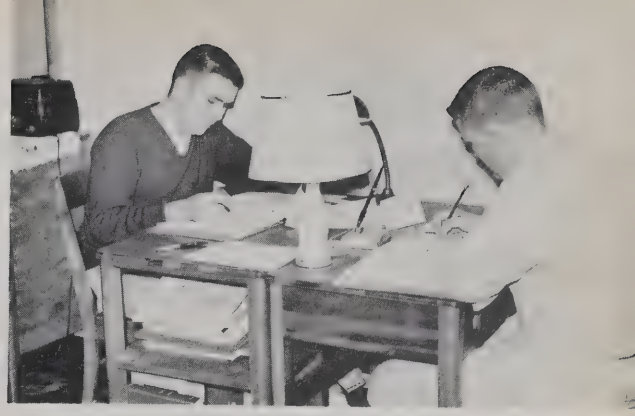
ENTERTAINMENT at the football banquet is given by Louis Moorer, Ralph Lowe and Jimmy Reeves.

THE TEXAS SCHOTTISCHE, not the bop, at the Freshman social.

TIME OUT FOR REFRESHMENTS at the Kappa Beta George Washington social is enjoyed by everyone.

THE WAGON WHEEL provides relaxation after a full day of classes.

CAPTIVATED AUDIENCE listens to Vernon Adcock on High School day.



STUDY POSE in Men's Residence Hall.

Glimpses of Campus Life

INITIATION VICTIMS fall prostrate before upperclassmen.

VERSATILE MARGARET makes efficient use of her time during study hours.

FATHER CHANDLER confers with Junior in student apartments.

SHUTTERBUG ARMSTRONG snapshots Home Ec party.

Who's Who Among Students In American Colleges and Universities

On this page and those that follow the 1958 VOLUNTEER JUNIOR presents some of those students who have won special recognition or token of campus leadership. Certainly there are many others who are fully worthy of these honors; however we present with pride those who are shown as being a good cross section of those who are leaders in scholarship, personality, and leadership.

We begin our presentation of outstanding campus personalities with a group who attained a position on a nationally recognized list. Those representing UTMB in the national roll of "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" were first nominated by the All-Students' Club and departmental staffs. Final selection was made by a faculty committee on the basis of scholarship, citizenship and leadership. To be eligible for consideration grades had to be good; from juniors and seniors with good grades only those who had shown special qualities of leadership were chosen.

Winners of Scholastic Awards 1957

Each year at the Aloha Oe ceremonies and at the Commencement Exercises awards are made to students who have excelled in their various courses of study. In addition certain students outstanding in leadership and personality are recognized by suitable awards. Those pictured above are those who received these awards during the 1957 commencement period.

The members of this group were typical of the large group of college students who fulfill the true purpose of being college students — the purpose of engaging in serious study and of increasing to a significant degree their knowledge and understanding.

Too often intellectual achievement is not given much recognition in a student publication. However, to those pictured above and to the larger group whom they represent, the UTMB VOLUNTEER says "Well done!".

Campus Leaders

Mr. UTMB

RALPH JOHNSON
Scotts Hill, Tennessee

Helping hand and big grin—that's Mr. UTMB! a junior in preveterinary science, Ralph has served in various capacities on our campus and has filled them all with the qualifications of a truly deserving Campus Leader. This year saw Ralph as Barnwarmin' King, an active member of the Ag Club, and vice-president of Kappa Beta. Ralph has also served on numerous committees — those which required much work with little credit.

Mr. UTMB transferred to the University of Tennessee at Knoxville after his freshman year, but luckily for us he returned to the Martin campus for his junior year.

With an abundance of personality and friendliness, Mr. UTMB is popular with all. As for his choice as the recipient of one of the highest student-awarded honors, we use one of Ralph's favorite phrases and say, "That's alright!"

Miss UTMB

ELEANOR GRESHAM
Cordova, Tennessee

Versatility, beauty and brains are the marks of Miss UTMB. The honors which Eleanor has to her credit are many. Her hard work and active participation have proven that Eleanor is the person to get the job done. In addition to being a Campus Leader last year, she has capably filled the jobs of cheerleader, secretary of the T Club, and ROTC sponsor.

Beauty is another of Eleanor's assets. She has been selected as a Campus Beauty for each of the past two years. Still another accomplishment of our Miss UTMB is the fact that she designs and constructs most of her fashionable wardrobe.

Eleanor is also very active in Wesley Foundation, having held the office of secretary for a year.

Needless to say, Miss UTMB of 1958 is surely a deserving choice, and in the hartiest way we say "Congratulations!"

JIMMY BLANKENSHIP
Bruceton, Tennessee

One of the finest students on the campus, Jimmy's accomplishments range from ROTC officer to an active worker in BSU. In addition to these, Jimmy is an honor-roll student and an active worker in the Liberal Arts. Club.

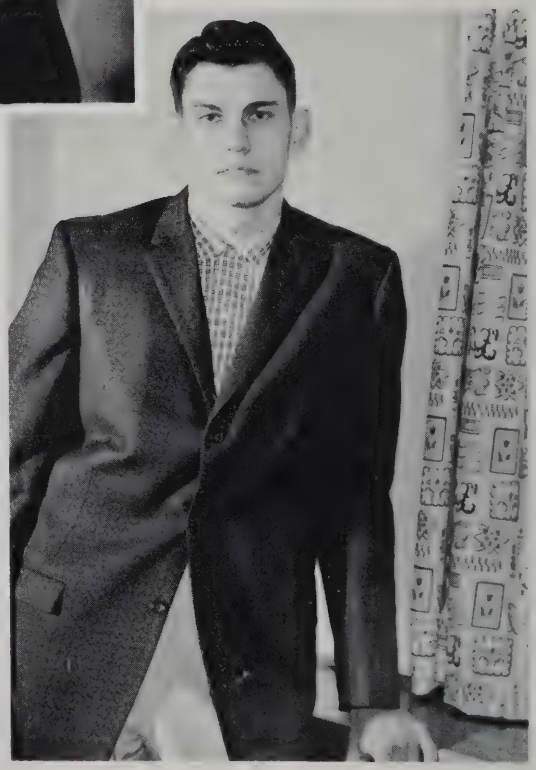
A helping hand coupled with hard work and friendliness for all have made Jimmy a deserving Campus Leader.

Campus Leaders

LAWANNA WALKER
Savannah, Tennessee

Miss Personality — That's Lawanna! A very active member of her curriculum club, Home Ec, and secretary of the ASC are just two of the positions which this outstanding campus leader has held.

Lawanna has also been Barnwarmin' Queen and a campus beauty plus the outstanding achievement of being selected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.



JERE FREEMAN
Martin, Tennessee

An "Aggie" who has served as president of his curriculum club, president of the ASC, and a member of Who's Who, Jere is one of those few people who is willing to work on any job, be it great or small.

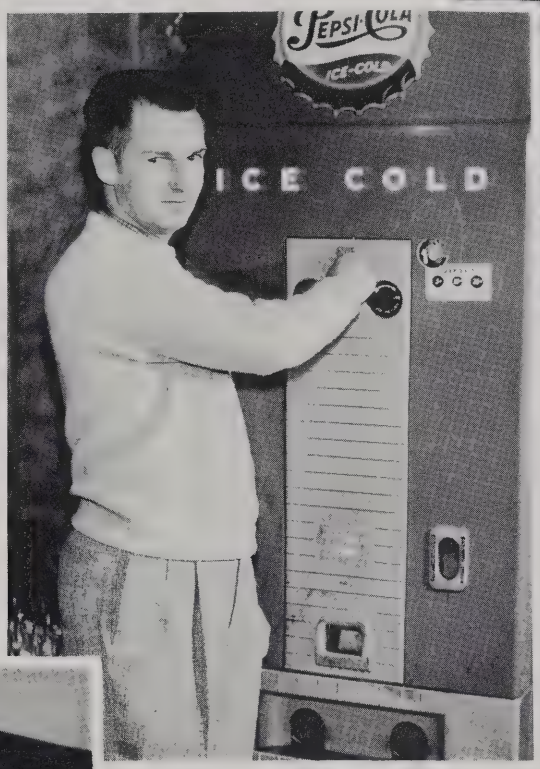
Being selected as Campus Leader last year also, Jere has always been "the man to get the job done."

Campus Leaders

MARY ELIZABETH GRABIEL
Ridgely, Tennessee

A sophomore in Education, Mary Liz has proved to be made of the "stuff campus leaders are made of." Good grades and hard work are synonomous with the name of this gal.

A lead in Oklahoma, Vice-President of FTA, activity in Wesley, and secretary of the Election Commission are just four of her achievements.



TOM CRENSHAW
Trenton, Tennessee

The greatest tribute to Tom could well be the success of the Christmas Dance. Serving as vice-president of the Sophomore Class, Tom proved his ability and applied hard work to the making of his class party a big success this year.

The Liberal Arts curriculum is proud to claim Tom as one of its finest.

DORIS HETTINGER
Memphis, Tennessee

The tremendous job of President of the Women's Residence Hall has proved an easy task for Doris. In addition to this she has served as a member of the annual staff, intramural captain, and was elected to Who's Who.

If honors be a criterion for a campus leader, Doris has her share!

MARK FARRAR
Shelbyville, Tennessee

A person ready to work whether the credit be given or forgotten, that's this Campus Leader. Mark has served as president of the Ag Club, vice-president of his class and president of Wesley Foundation and has seen that every job which he has tackled was carried out to the best of his ability which was always the BEST!

Campus Leaders

RUTH DODSON
Parsons, Tennessee

Hard work as a cheerleader plus a friendly, smiling personality were Ruthie's keys to becoming a Campus Leader.

A sophomore in Business, Ruthie has kept the spirit high at ball games as well as in any group of which she is a part!

BOBBY KENDRICK
Brownsville, Tennessee

Active on the football field as co-captain of the football team and active in the Business Club as its president, Bobby has shown his value as a Campus Leader. He has proved a tremendous asset to both organizations and certainly an all round asset to the UTMB campus.

CAROLYN McCORKLE
Halls, Tennessee

Cheering our team to victory and hard work are truly traits of Carolyn.

Active in many campus activities and a friend of all, this sophomore in Home Economics is a deserving recipient of the honor of Campus Leader.

Campus Leaders

TOM HENDRIX
Bethel Springs. Tennessee

A big smile and warm greeting for all of his fellow students have made this Campus Leader one of the most well-liked students on the campus. His hard work in the Ag Club and all of its activities have made Tom the right man for almost any job. In addition to these activities, the Veterans' Club has seen much of Tom's hard work and is proud to have him as a member.

JUDY JOHNSON
Scotts Hill, Tennessee

Being a freshman proved an asset to this Campus Leader. Judy has been a hard-working cheerleader and member of the Home Economics club.

A bright smile and beaming personality helped this "green freshman" make quite a hit with her fellow-students.

Campus Leaders

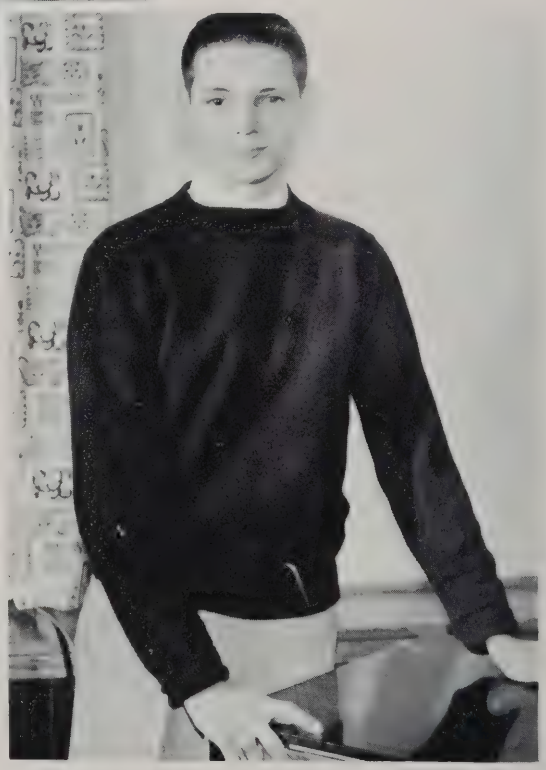
JOHNNY FOWLER
Kenton, Tennessee

The title of Campus Leader is surely not a new one for Johnny. Ever since his arrival on our campus, the offices he has held have been many and varied. Last year he served as the very able president of the Men's Dorm and this year he is holding the office of vice-president of the ASC. And needless to say, the job which Johhny has done has been commendable.

JOYCE BIZZELLE
Union City, Tennessee

Hard work for four years was certain to result in the honor of Campus Leader for Joyce Bizzelle. President of the Home Ec club is only one of the many jobs Joyce has carried out beautifully.

One of the most deserving and hardest working of the Campus Leaders, we are proud to bestow this title on Joyce Bizzelle.



JOE WALKER
Trenton, Tennessee

Joe proved his great worth to the campus last year with his tremendous fulfillment of the job as freshman class president. This year Joe has been a member of the Election Commission and has been ready, willing, and above all, able to do well every job which has been given him.

Tinker,

Be good! Patty Jo

PATTY JO ALEXANDER
Trenton, Tennessee

Being elected as secretary of the freshman class proves that Patty made a big hit at the first of her college venture.

Working hard in her class and in her curriculum club, Business Administration, have led us to expect big things from this freshman Campus Leader.

Campus Leaders

BILLY CRISWELL
Dyersburg, Tennessee.

The Liberal Arts Club and Veteran's Club have been the scenes for most of Billy's endeavors. A great sense of humor added to hard work and friendliness have made up the winning recipe of this Campus Leader's popularity.

DORIS REEDY
Selmer, Tennessee

Serving as an able secretary of the FTA plus an out-reaching personality have made Doris a popular co-ed on our campus. In addition to her work, she was selected as a maid in the Strawberry Festival royalty last year, showing us that she is quite a versatile Campus Leader.

HUGH LASHLEE
Camden, Tennessee
Leading the football team to victory and guiding the Business Club through a successful year are only two of this Campus Leader's accomplishments.

JOYCE THOMASON
Martin, Tennessee
Hard work on the annual and service as secretary of the senior class have proved Joyce to be a deserving Campus Leader!

Campus Leaders

SCOTTY GREENE
Dyer, Tennessee
This sophomore in Engineering served as the capable president of his curriculum club and has been a valuable asset to our campus.

ANN McHUGH
Trenton, Tennessee
Vice-president of the Home Ec club and a member of the Delta Kappa council are two of this Campus Leader's accomplishments.

THOMAS PARNELL
Newbern, Tennessee
The Aggies claim this hard worker of their club and the Veteran's club as one of their very finest.

All-Students' Club

Every student automatically becomes a member of the All-Students' Club thus making this the largest organization on the campus. Each club and class is represented by its president and ASC representative on the ASC Council, which meets the first Tuesday of each month. At the Retreat in the fall the council begins its work of planning and coordinating the various student activities for the year. The ASC officers, selected by campus wide election, the election commission, and representatives of the organizations work together in the interest of making the All-Students' Club a unified group. The ASC sponsors many projects during the year among which are the Collegiate Hop, get-acquainted parties at the beginning of school, Retreat, the Wagon Wheel, buses to some ball-games away from school, student elections through the Election Commission, and many other campus activities. The All-Students' Club is a group for the students, by the students, and of the students.

- - - - T Club

Membership in the T Club was available to those who had received letters in interscholastic sports or as cheerleaders. To provide fellowship and social opportunities for those who had in common a love of sports, and to provide a forum for discussion of the problems and plans of this group on the campus were the aims of the group. This club also helped build school spirit by the wearing af the "T" and providing cheerleaders at sports events. To help take care of injuries to athletes the club operated the concessions at football and basketball games.

Home Economics Club

The Home Economics Club on campus is open to all girls who enroll in the Home Economics curriculum.

The seven-fold purposes of the club are: (1) To develop skills and increase knowledge; (2) To widen cultural interest; (3) To develop professional attitude and abilities; (4) To create understanding among the people of all nations; (5) To give social experience; (6) To contribute service to the community; and (7) To earn public understanding of Home Economics.

The club members strive to find friends among the faculty and students of the college and to share with them the value of the home economics profession through co-operation and understanding. The promotion of professional attitudes and interest is the theme for many of the programs; therefore, people who are successfully practicing the profession of home economics are frequently invited as guests of the club.

"Engineering" a good party or "engineering" professional development, as well as learning to be engineers, was a matter of pride to the Engineering Club. One of the largest and most active curriculum clubs on the Campus, its activities ranged from club meetings with professional men as speakers to putting on one of the year's biggest shindigs, the Engineers' Ball.

ENGINEERS OF THE MONTH, chosen by the faculty for overall excellence, until presstime included Tom Glass, Charles Callis, Jimmie Stanford and (inset) Wayne Tansil.

Business Club

POUNDING THE GAVEL to call the club to order for a business meeting is Spring Quarter President Dale Freeman.

PROFESSIONAL GROWTH is a goal of Business Club members Carolyn Click and Hugh Bennett, here working on accounting sets.

The purpose of the Business Club is to further fellowship between students and faculty and provide its members with an opportunity for leadership in situations similar to those encountered in the business and social world.

The club engages in a variety of activities and projects during the year. This year these included an all-school party, Bingo, roller skating, panel discussions and lectures, and a picnic at Natchez Trace State Park.

Awards are presented annually by the club to the outstanding male and female members in recognition of their efforts to promote the club and its activities.

Oklahoma!

"Smash hit!" was the consensus of opinion of those who saw the two-night production of the famous Broadway musical "Oklahoma!" at the college auditorium in February. This show was a joint production of Vanguard Theatre and the College Chorus.

In spite of the winter's worst weather, good-sized crowds each evening felt amply repaid for braving the snow and cold. There was general appreciation for the great amount of talent and the excellent staging and direction of this outstanding production.

Vanguard Theatre

Vanguard Theatre, now in its third year, under the supervision of J. Robert Swain has become one of the outstanding organizations on the campus. The fall quarter production was Tennessee Williams' "The Glass Menagerie." This was a small cast play which presented a challenge in acting and staging. The cast and crew met the challenge by turning out an excellent production.

"Oklahoma!" was produced in collaboration with the UTMB chorus during the winter quarter. This was Vanguard's first musical and it was a smash hit.

CATCHING UP ON LIFE, Billy Dawn (Carolyn Taylor) does her homework in "Born Yesterday".

The spring quarter production of Garson Kanin's comedy "Born Yesterday," saw a new feature added to Vanguard Theatre. This, directed by J. Douglass Chandler, was the first student directed production. In addition, there was a bill of one-act plays, also student directed, presented in the spring quarter.

Vanguard Theatre is educational theatre and it offers a grand opportunity to those interested in learning all phases of play production.

Students' Wives Club

Married students at college are numerous in recent years, and in many cases the wives come along to look after hubby's welfare while he hits the math and English. The Students' Wives Club is an organization of the young married women whose husbands are students. Its purposes are to develop fellowship and friendship among its members and to give their social energies a creative outlet.

For a coed, dormitory life is one of the most memorable phases of college life. The popcorn parties, "hen" parties, getting ready for the big dance, being "campused", and learning to live with "roomie" all become major issues when one lives in a women's residence hall.

Not only did the freshmen have adjustments to make this fall quarter, but upper classmen also found themselves faced with new problems. The big, gorgeous new dorm, compared with our smaller homes of last year, was really quite different, and that difference required a bit of adjusting on our part. However with such modern luxurious surroundings plus meeting and getting to know lots of new people, we soon settled down to the swing of things.

Our Winter Wonderland dance proved to be a great big success even though the Asiatic flu was trying hard to put a damper on things. We can't forget that siege when the corridors looked like a hospital and reeked with medicinal odors of penicillin and sulphur. If you didn't get bit by the "bug", you were strictly out of place! And lucky!

Spring quarter found sun-bathers on the roof, and "campusology" as the most popular subject in our hallowed halls. A new "bug" and a much more pleasant one had found its way into the dorm. And strangely enough, no one was trying to get rid of it!

By the end of the year, the new dorm had taken on a "lived-in" look, and most of us felt we had done our share in the "living." It was certainly a year to remember!

Presbyterian Fellowship

This year, students of all Presbyterian beliefs organized a group on the campus known as the Presbyterian Fellowship. This group meets each Sunday night at the Cumberland Presbyterian Church for a fellowship meal and worship program. It is the aim of the Presbyterian Fellowship to help students develop spiritually, as well as mentally, physically, and socially, while in college. Although the Presbyterian Felowship is a small and young organization, it holds big hopes for the future.

FELLOWSHIP MEALS such as this are held each Sunday evening with the assistance of various members of the church.

WORSHIP SERVICES, like this one conducted by George Gossett, are a regular part of the Presbyterian Fellowship's activities.

K Club

For the second year the Church of Christ Student Group, known on the the campus as the K Club, has enjoyed a fine year. This group endeavours to provide an opportunity for Christian association among men and women students who are members of the Church of Christ and their friends while resident students at the University of Tennessee Martin Branch.

Sponsors of the group this year have been Mr. Joe Guest and Mr. Henry C. Allison as faculty advisors and Mr. David Davidson, minister of the Martin Church of Christ.

Baptist Student Union

The Baptist Student Union is a student-led, church-related and Christ-centered program. The Executive and Freshman Councils correlate and direct the Baptist student religious activities on the campus. These include daily devotional meetings, Bible discussion groups and social affairs. The BSU is also interested in off-campus activities such as missionary services, retreats, conventions, and Student Missionary program. It provides for the spiritual growth of students and fills college days with enriching experiences.

Wesley Foundation

To provide a spiritual home away from home for its students on a state college campus is the purpose of the Methodist Church in maintaining a Wesley Foundation program at UTMB. This year a modern new Wesley Foundation center and a full-time Wesley Foundation Director gave added impetus to the fine program already in operation.

The program was not limited to Sundays, but extended throughout the week. By worship, study, fellowship, and wholesome recreation the student was helped to grow personally and spiritually. The activities were always planned by the WF members themselves, with guidance by the Director, and every member felt himself to be an important part of the program.

Successful Season

The UTMB Vols, captained by Hugh Lashlee, and Bobby Kendrick, tore the works apart in 1957 as they completed the nearest to perfect season since the war years. Their record of 6 wins and 1 loss could stand in the black of anyone's record book. With the exception of the lone loss, every game found the Vols at least 5 points ahead of their opponents.

Bobby Fowler led the team in nearly every department connected with ball carrying. He set numerous school records as he drove, dodged and plunged his way from the fullback position toward pay dirt. In one game he contributed five touchdowns and three conversions for a total of 33 points. For the season he gained 1025 yards and scored 91 points. In compiling these figures he earned for himself the coveted most valuable player award, and won second string Junior College All-American Honors.

The passing department was capably handled by Monte Bayless and Joe Lane. More than a few times one of these men faded back and heaved a long one to the waiting arms of a receiver. Often the waiting man was End Hugh Lashlee, a great receiver, but it was not unusual for it to be Halfback Stan Hawkins.

The team played well defensively as is shown by the low scores of most of the opponents. The outstanding men in this phase of the game were Charles Youngerman, Billy Smith, James Graves, Bobby Kendrick, Joe Lane, and Bill Deverell.

For this writer one of the greatest thrills of the season was a touchdown by Bobby Kendrick on the opening kickoff of the Baylor game. The play, which covered 92 yards, started with Stan Hawkins receiving the ball on the 8 and carrying it to the 15. Kendrick and Hawkins crisscrossed on this stripe with Kendrick taking the ball and wagging it to the TD line some 85 yards away.

MOST VALUABLE PLAYER trophy, donated by the T Club, is awarded to Ed Jones by Coach Burdette. Charles Youngerman, T Club president, looks on.

Another Winning Season

The 1958 edition of the Volunteer basketball team dived into a tough schedule of opponents to emerge with a 13 and 4 record. They compiled 101 points against Lambuth for their highest score of the year and tallied only 52 points in a losing cause against this same team for their lowest score. The Vols scored 1,410 points in 18 games for an average of 78.33 points per game.

Edward Jones led the individual scoring as he hooped 300 points, averaging 17.64 points per game, and led in several other departments. As a result Jones was selected as the first to receive the Most Valuable Player Award to be given annually by the T Club.

The Governors of Austin Peay tripped the Vols 81 to 66 in the VSAC Tournament in Nashville. The Vols had an off night, but they played as fine a game as any of the other teams to face the eventual tournament winners. Jones and James Hart were given honorable mention on the all-conference team.

 BASKETBALL MANAGERS Bobby Moore and Vernon Adcock attended to many of the details necessary in putting a team on the court.

Good Beginning

For the first time in many years in the spring of 1957 UTMB fielded a baseball team. In spite of cold, wet weather and lack of experience in playing together the team had a good season, with three wins, four losses and two ties. Highlights were the pitching of Burton, slugging of Tyson, and the consistent hitting of Riddick and Joyner. It is too early to know the 1958 record, but we predict another successful season. The 1957 record follows:

	OPP.	UTMB
Freed-Hardeman	4	4
Freed-Hardeman	4	10
Paducah	11	9
Union	2	0
Paducah	2	3

BATTERYMEN: Turman, Wilson, Reeves, J. Johnson, Folks, Overton, Davis, Clark, Shanklin, Duffey, Scott.

WOMEN'S 1957 TENNIS TEAM: Kay Carroll, Harriet Lavenue, Joyce Bizzelle, Helen Cherry, Jere Lynn Fuqua, Hulane Brooks.

Women's Tennis

The women's 1957 tennis team, pictured above, under the tutelage of Miss Bettye Giles had their third consecutive perfect season, winning seven matches and losing none. As we go to press we are unable to have the 1958 record, but predict another successful season, since all but one of the 1957 letter-winners are on the 1958 squad.

Men's Tennis

The 1957 team proved a very successful one compiling the record of 7 wins and 3 defeats. With the return of two of last year's lettermen, the team and Coach Henson hope for a 1958 season as good as or better than that enjoyed last year.

Carnicus

"Around the World in Eighty Days" was the theme of the 1958 Carnicus enjoyed by packed audiences for two evenings. The Carnicus is a show staged annually by the students of the Physical Education Department. It features sports demonstrations, acrobatics, folk and interpretative dancing, and lots of comedy and action. This year, as in years past many hours of rehearsal and preparation resulted in a very entertaining performance.

Intramural Sports

Intramurals gave each student an opportunity to excel in a sport of his or her choice. From the large numbers of students participating and the crowds who watched the intramural tournaments, there was a great interest in the intramural sports program. The Green team was the leader in points as we went to press.

Dear Tinker
will old buddy it has been great going to school with you and having a buddy like you. we have had some great times together I sure hope that we will be together again next year. Your the only guy up here that is as crazy as I am. Tinker I sure hope that you and that girl at Millington makes out alright. ~~Tinker I think that you have~~ got the lot on Daisy. Tinker I sure hope that you don't have to move to Ridgely. will old buddy we will have our troubles next year with the girls, but we will come out in the best of things. Tinker the best of luck to a great buddy.

a pal always Bobby.

Tinker,
I thought I had just about said enough. But, there is so much more that has been left unsaid, things I could never say. I really don't know if you have a girl in Memphis or not, but I do know for sure and certain that you have one in Marten. But, oddly enough even thought it hurts I am glad in one small way. Of course no one likes too much competition, but ~~there~~ a little makes it interesting. There is only one thing to be kept in mind I dont care as long as the girls are after you and you are not after them.

Tinker, I really wish with all my heart that I could believe you because that would make me terribly happy but, I guess it is because I care so much about you that I know. I will just have to forget. But, far as long as I can I'll have you. Maybe you'll finally get that little deal luck to you!

Dear Tinker,

Perhaps when you are older, and after you have had many more girlfriends, you will probably read this, and because it will sound so very simple, you will laugh.

Time and space are limited and even if they were not, I could never express in mere words what you mean to me. When I remember college I won't remember a dorm, a class or a teacher, I will remember you.

The first time I saw you was at a football game and I decided then that I wanted a date with you. Well, since that time I have had many dates with you and with each date I have grown to care more and more for you. I have grown to love you.

I know that many times we have had our disagreements and I know to that most of the blame was mine. Yet I have lived for you to — scream at me from below my window, or come creeping to the coke room or to call me at eleven and talk for hours.

Lately I know that you have found another girlfriend, and I know to that she is very beautiful and sweet, and since you deserve the best, maybe it is better.

I will only say until we meet again. And since there is a possibility that I won't be back to school next year that may be forever. But, if it is forever just remember that I will never forget you as long as I live because you were my first love.

All my Love Always,

Dasie Marie

Tinker
Its really been nice knowing you and I want to wish you the best of luck in everything. If you come back next year don't let Tansil tear you up.
Willie

— To Tinker —

You are a scaggy no good memphis misfit! It's to bad you don't know how to fish - but theres one thing you are good for and thats playing the role - little abner - no joke its been great having you for a road buddy - maby next year you can run the plantion club - your pub
— Yank —

Tinker,
May you always have plenty of luck + happiness in the future and always keep Daise Mae straight. Best wishes,
A friend,
Carolyn Prince

Tinker, it really been nice knowing you this year. You seem to be a sweet guy, and we like you. We like Daisie, to so we wish the best to you both! Here's wishing you the best in everything!
A friend
Fred Johnson

Tinker,
Believe me, I'll never forget you for more ways than one. First, because of the honking of that horn - Daisy running to an window - then I could expect to stay up the rest of the night.
I think you're a cute football manager who really has those boys under your thumb.
Best of luck to you and
Daisy
A friend
Peggy Davis

Tinker, Even though I haven't been around you very much, I think you are a nice guy. I hope you have all the luck +
happiness in the world.
Keep Daise on the right track
(if you can).
A friend,
Barbara
Boswell

Tinker,
I have really enjoyed going to school with you. Daisie is a real sweet gal and I wish you two the best of luck always
Sherry Smith

Cool daddy "Tink",

It's been a hell of a lot of fun this year. We have really had some cool times, especially when you & Ben were on the demolition at Cairo. If we're both back next year, we will have some more tough happenings. We might even re-fight the civil war with "Yonk" and his "Crosby Squares". I'll never forget the cool time at the Cotton Carnival and Ole 10 yd's Plantation club & that crazy S.O.B. that was running around nude at the Shelby lake. Tinker, you've been a dann good road-buddy, the only trouble is that you play too hard, ease up dammet. Hope you are always as happy as you are now & have all the success possible. Your cool enough.

Your road buddy to the end,

Stan (The Moor) Hankins

"Hawk"

P.S. Hope we get together this summer. Write me.

Tinker"

Lots of success and happiness to the most "fun-loving" guy I have even known — and one of the cutest, too.
